

Osseous Coagulum Trap

Osseous material being collected in the OCT.

The Osseous Coagulum Trap (OCT) offers an improved method of collecting osseous material. Osseous material is collected directly from the aspirator tip into a sterile filter. It is also excellent for retrieving root tips and precious metals. The OCT can be chemically, autoclaved or dry heat sterilized. It comes with three filters. Additional filters are available in packages of three. The OCT connects into a high volume cut-off valve or 1/4" surgical tubing. Any surgical aspirator that fits a high volume cut-off valve will fit into the OCT cap.

Irrigators

Complete Pressurized Irrigation Set

Place sterile water and saline where you need it when you need it. Roller ball shut off is universally recognized, easy to use, and will not allow leakage. Tapered irrigating tip directs a very fine stream of water to the surgical site. Irrigating tip shaft is a durable 1/8" stainless steel tube that resists unintentional bending and breakage. Product includes complete irrigation line (7' long with striker and cutoff clamp), cut off handle, irrigating tip, and 500cc pressure cuff. 1000cc and 3000cc pressure cuffs available by request. K-IR $175.00
